will address us on the topic

Democracy at the Brink of Catastrophe

Abahlali baseMjondolo is a movement of shackdwellers which first began in Durban in 2005. The movement has managed to democratise the governance of several shack settlements and has stopped the eviction of many shack dwellers. Recently, several Abahlali baseMjondolo members were attacked during a meeting and as a result of these attacks and further victimisation, many are currently living in very difficult circumstances.

Friday 30 October, Humanities Seminar Room, 13:00
